

Second-Annual Color the World Orange™ for CRPS/RSD Awareness to Turn The Night Orange Nov. 2
New York, NY – November 2, 2015

Buildings around the globe will turn orange on Nov. 2 for the second-annual Color The World Orange™, an event aimed at spreading awareness of complex regional pain syndrome (CRPS), also known as reflex sympathetic dystrophy (RSD).

Supporters will be wear orange and host events on Nov. 2 to spread awareness of CRPS/RSD, a chronic pain condition that is characterized by continuous, intense, often burning, pain. The easiest way to get involved is to wear orange and post a picture to social media with the hashtag: #CRPSORANGEDAY™.

In the U.S., the Con Edison Clock Tower in New York, the dome of the Nassau County, New York Theodore Roosevelt Executive and Legislative Building, the Terminal Tower in Cleveland, the Houston City Hall, the soda bottle at “Pops” in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, the Crystal Bridge at the Myriad Botanical Gardens in Oklahoma City, the Light Blades in Wharf District Park in Boston, and the Crazy Horse Memorial in South Dakota will all be lit orange on Nov. 2 for Color The World Orange™, as will buildings in Chicago.

In Pennsylvania, the dome of the Westmoreland County courthouse, the Gulf Tower and the tower fixture in the lobby of the PNC Tower in Pittsburgh, the South Street Bridge in Saegertown, and the PPL Tower in Allentown, will all be lit orange. In Florida, the Amway Center and the fountain at the Lake Eola Park in Orlando, and the 110 Tower in Ft. Lauderdale, will also be lit orange, as will the VUE building and the Duke Energy Center in Charlotte.

In Australia, the SkyPoint Observation Deck, the State Library of Queensland, the Queensland Performing Arts Centre, the Brisbane Convention & Exhibition Centre, the Melbourne Observation Wheel and the Brisbane Treasury Casino & Hotel will be orange on Nov. 2. In the UK the Brighton Wheel is also scheduled to turn orange.

Sixty proclamations have been granted by U.S. Governors and local officials recognizing Nov. 2 as Color The World Orange™ day or November as CRPS/RSD awareness month.

“Color The World Orange™ was started last year to bring awareness to a debilitating pain condition that too few people know about or understand,” the Color The World Orange™ team said. “We hope this day can bring together those that suffer from CRPS/RSD, along with family and friends, to show the world that while we are in pain, we are strong.”

The first annual Color The World Orange™ in 2014 was a huge success with events held globally to spread awareness of CRPS/RSD. Forty-five proclamations were obtained from U.S. states and cities recognizing Color The World Orange™ or November as CRPS/RSD awareness month. Buildings in New York, Chicago, Cleveland, Indianapolis and Charlotte were lit orange, as were bridges in New York, Oklahoma City and a fountain in Australia. There were even CRPS/RSD billboards in Oklahoma City. One supporter ran the 2014 New York City Marathon, while another completed a 200-mile bike ride through the U.K.
